

Free Matinee for Farmers

Lyceum Theatre

Commencing Saturday, May 13

Show Starts at 3:15. One Show Only.

Pleasant Hill Notes.

Before writing any news for this week and last, I must correct an error which was made in my notes for the 28th of March issue. It was as follows: Nearly all of the young people of this community went to Lincoln Sunday. All report that the Sunday school attendance was unusually small. It should have been: All report a good time. Our Sunday school was unusually small. It was either my mistake or a mistake in type-setting.

Nearly everyone is planting. Winter must be over.

James M. Bickley and an architect, of Clovis, were out at the school house last Saturday a week ago. They inspected the school house to ascertain whether it would support another story. The patrons have had several meetings relative to the new building. Plans for the new building were presented Sunday.

The second eight grade examination was held at the school house last Friday and Saturday.

J. M. Blackwell proved up on his farm Saturday.

Milton Reese preached at the school house last Sunday morning.

Several of the Pleasant Hillites visited Glenn and Bessie Snoderly last Sunday.

Our next literary meeting will be on Saturday night, May 12th. Everybody is invited.

Wide Awake.

Lincoln Locals

Well! well! as the weather has been growing warmer, Little Cricket will again make her appearance.

Everybody is invited to the Singing convention May 14th at the Lincoln school house.

Talk to Farmers

MR. FARMER:

Have you a crop of wheat? Do you need any assistance in harvesting the same, if so, see us. Do you need any assistance in planting your spring crop? Have you sufficient live stock on the farm? We might help you obtain some if you have not.

We established this bank to serve the farmer. We want to help you get better live stock, improve your farm, and we believe we can help you in a number of ways if you will only permit us.

Kindly call in and talk over any business matter that you may have in mind.

When you buy your next tire make this simple test. Let us weigh a Michelin Universal Tire in comparison with any other non-skid of the same size.

You will find the Michelin 12 to 15% heavier than the average, the exact percentage depending on the size of the tire used in the test.

This extra weight represents extra rubber and fabric, which means extra service.
